She has been an adjudicator for Terpsichore Dance Celebration, American Dance Awards, and The World Dance Championships in Orlando, Florida, and the International Youth Dance Festival at Nathan Phillip's Square to name only a few. In 2012, Rhonda opened her own studio called The Art of Balance (TAB). Here she is combining the worlds of dance, fitness and other mind-body practices to promote a sense of homeostasis in the body. Sandra D'Arsie is founder and owner of Let's Dance Ltd., one of the premier dance studios in the Kitchener-Waterloo and Cambridge region. For over 32 years, Sandra has been teaching students the art of dance, respect for others and pride and confidence in oneself. Sandra appreciates the finest things about dance with specific attention to detail on dance technique, precision and appropriate choreography. Sandra has judged numerous competitions as well as "Nationals competitions" for Dance Masters of America. She encourages her dancers to attend workshops to expose them to different styles and techniques. Her students have a long list of awards and achievements in dance and are featured in commercials, TV shows & movies, modelling and professional work on Cruise Ships and resorts internationally. One former student just finished filming an upcoming movie in a major role and another graduated from Point Park University and is now teaching at The Underground Dance Centre.

Some of her achievements include: choreography for shows for the Middle Eastern Embassy in Washington and choreography for local productions.

Sandra has a reputation for having a large senior company...her dancers love her methods and her personal interest in their lives. They start as toddlers and leave when it's time to further their education or set out on their chosen career. Her dancers are not just a team...they become family.

Sandra also grooms her dancers to teach dance and share their love of dance with others. Sandra is excited about sharing her commitment to dance with you this weekend and hopes that it will be a fun and positive experience for everyone.
